SEPTEMBER TERM
OF COURT IS ON.Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen
Charged the Grand Jury
This Morning.

W. D. McINNIS IS FOREMAN

First Case Taken Up Was That of Raymond Capers, Charged With a Criminal Assault—Other Matters
That Come Up for Action.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 5.—The September term of Criminal Court was opened in a stately manner at 10 o'clock this morning by Court Crier Charles M. Fee, with both the Petit and Grand Jurors in attendance.

After the Constables had made their returns, Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen charged the Grand Jury in regard to good conduct, which Attorney W. H. Playford was a member. It is his purpose to co-operate with the county authorities for the betterment of public highways throughout the county, asking the Grand Jurors to report any road supervisor, who they thought was not doing his duty.

The Grand Jury retired at 10:30 with W. D. McInnis of Connellsville as foreman. Constable A. C. Shaffer was recalled to sign his return.

District Attorney D. W. Henderson states that there are 255 cases ready to go to the Grand Jury. It is expected that before this body adjourns about 250 cases will be gone over. This session of criminal court will probably be completed before the last of next week.

The first case to be taken up in Court room No. 2 this morning will be that of Raymond Capers, colored, charged with rape. This case is one of the most important to come up at this term, outside of the Smith murder trial.

One evening in January, Capers knocked on the door of the residence of Mrs. Ellen Laughrey, a widow of Fairchance. It was about 11 o'clock at night and the woman was still up, awaiting the return of her son, who opened the door and was seized by the negro.

Her screams attracted the attention of neighbors. A search was at once started, but Capers being gone on the trail. Capers was caught the next morning between Fairchance and York town, about one mile from the scene of his crime. The defendant, who is a teenager, is about 25 years of age. His case was called at the June term of court, but owing to an accident to the son of his attorney, Judge H. E. Umbel is presiding at the trial. District Attorney D. W. Henderson acting for the prosecutor, County Detective Alex McElrath. The rest of the morning was consumed in securing a jury.

Before Judge Van Swearingen, in the large court room, the case of Clyde Cooper charged with formation, bribery and statutory rape was taken up. Mrs. Ella Dillow is the prosecutrix. The parties live near Haverdewtown. On the evening of September 21, 1908, Mrs. Dillow was returning from church, when Cooper followed her home, tearing her clothes from her body. Another attack took place later on the same evening. A child was born on July 2, of which she claims Cooper is the father. Mrs. Dillow is a widow, 29 years of age, leaving her to provide for five children. Young Cooper is 18 years old. Attorney C. D. Clark has been retained for the defense, Assistant District Attorney George Patterson prosecuting. No trouble was experienced in drawing a jury.

Cooper's aged mother sits by his side at the counsel table. Mrs. Dillow, who is small and slim, is on the stand most of the morning, being the only witness for the prosecution. Attorney Clark will attempt to prove an alibi for his client, claiming that Cooper was in the vicinity of his mother's home at the time of the crime.

A libel in divorce was filed this morning by Delta B. Board against John B. Board. Description is charged. She lives at Uniontown and he at Ste. Clairlandtown.

The license of the Hotel Smoak at Smoak was transferred to Spalter and Smith. William T. Spalter becomes a partner in the hotel.

George B. Jeffries filed a petition asking that $100 counsel fees be allowed him as attorney for the defense in the divorce case of Warren G. Calloway against Ellen Calloway. The viewers in the case of A. D.

thousands against the Borough of Manontown has filed its report recommending $100 damages to the plaintiff
for a change of grade.

A rule has been issued on the employers' compensation directing them to show cause why they should not pay the costs of a lunacy commission which adjudged Annie Blubaugh insane.

The question of damages being settled, Charles T. Field joined in the position of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad to have its bond withdrawn.

The Grand Jury returned six bills
this afternoon. The case against Mary Hanses, charged with assault and battery, was ignored. The pres-entor, Frank Good, will pay the costs.

The Capers case concluded this afternoon and went to the jury.

Shickluna
Files Answer
to Rule Issued

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 5.—By his attorney, Charles E. Kefover, Edward Shickluna, proprietor of the Pennsylvania Hotel at Brownsville, today filed an answer to a rule issued by Judge Umbel to show cause why his license should not be revoked. The rule was issued on complaint of T. J. Underwood and others who alleged that he was treated in a very ungentlemanly manner by the proprietor.

Shickluna claims that four men who made the complaints, were severely intoxicated when they arrived at the hotel for dinner. He states that it is customary to close the hotel Sunday evenings, but on this occasion he kept the dining room open until 7:30. Admitting a difference in the amount paid for the meals, Shickluna says his father, who was acting as clerk, made a mistake in the change, but notified the men of such. He alleges that the men acted in a disorderly manner,
one of them stating he would make trouble if it cost a $1,000. Another, he says, told him he had a gun with him and asked him to let him have it.
He refused, "To hell with you." One of the men wanted to beat Shickluna but he had more assets with him than the proprietor, he claims.

He adds that he is very sorry the affair occurred, but would have furnished the men their dinner had they acted in the proper manner.

AT POINT OF REVOLVER

Highwaymen Met Carson on Latter's Back Porch Last Night—Burglars Were Also Busy in the Vicinity of Moyer Saturday.

Charles Carson of South Eighth street, West Side, was the victim of a holdup last night shortly after 11 o'clock. Carson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carson. He was returning home for the night when he was held up on the back porch of the Carson home by an unknown man who caught hold of his shoulder and at the point of a revolver demanded that he turn over his money. Carson gave the robber his purse which contained only a small amount of money.

Several of the neighbors who had retired heard the scuffle and later heard Carson call for help. Before he aroused his parents the man had made his escape. Carson went into the house to get a revolver and on his return to the porch the man was seen going across the vacant lots near the Carson home. Carson fired several shots, but with no avail. One of M.
J. Rehm's bloodhounds was put on the trail, but as yet there is no trace or clue to the identity of the burglar.

It is thought by the Carsons that the man was looking after their residence on Saturday night as muddy footprints, supposed to be his, of a man were seen on their porch in Sunday morning. It is also believed that the man was the same who entered the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Gomas on the South Side last Thursday morning.

Rabbits were active in the vicinity of Moyer Saturday night, one house being entered and a foreigner held up.
It was late that night that a foreigner reported to Special Officer Kefover that he had been held up at Moyer bridge and robbed of $5 in money and a bank book. The foreigner had $300 on deposit and this was entered in the book.
According to the man he was set upon and badly beaten, although his face
did not show signs of the terrible punishment he told of receiving.

The burglars also broke into the home of Robert Burkett. Burkett was away on Saturday evening at a dance.
He returned to find that his home and store had been broken into. The robbers secured a quantity of candy
and other articles.

No Demonstration
in St. Paul for President TaftUnited Press Telegram.
ST. PAUL, Sept. 5.—Lack of demonstration on the part of 10,000 spectators marked the arrival of President Taft here today. The crowd apparently came to see, not to cheer. From a box the President reviewed the parade. Twenty thousand passed silent by the reviewing stand.

Over a dozen unions did not participate, deciding several weeks ago not to be reviewed by the President.

The President entered the auditorium at 10:30. There were few laboring men in the audience. Most of the seats were taken before the parade ended.

Labor leaders openly charged the auditorium was packed against the common voters and contained an audience of those friendly to the Presi-

United Press Telegram.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Union labor,
in a street demonstration today, displayed its resentment of Justice Goff's decision that labor unions are guilty of conspiracy when they order
a strike to enforce the "closed shop."
The head of nearly every delegation carried a banner denouncing Goff.
Some closely approaching contempt.
The clankers, who recently won their strike, jeered as they marched past the aristocratic clubs along Fifth avenue, whose complaints caused the wholesale arrests last week.

MEYERSDALE MAN
DIES SUDDENLY.Edward J. Weld, an Old Resident, Passed Away
Sunday.

HE WAS IN GOOD HEALTH

Apparently on Saturday Evening and About Town—Woke Up Early in Morning and Told Family He Was Going to Die—McCune's Funeral.

Special to The Courier.
MEYERSDALE, Pa., Sept. 4.—The citizens of Meyersdale were greatly shocked this morning when it was announced that Edward J. Weld, for almost 3 years one of the leading residents of this place, had died. Last evening Mr. Weld was seen on the streets greeting his friends, as was his custom, apparently well and in his usual health. Some weeks ago deceased had a slight operation performed, having had a small growth removed from one of his cheeks in a Baltimore hospital, but since then he had felt no ill effects arising from that source.

He spent last night at his home in conversation with Mrs. Weld and the neighbors who called. Sometimes toward morning he summoned one of the members of the household, stating that he felt that he was going to die. The family physician and his nurse, the Rev. J. F. Looney, were hastily summoned, but before they either arrived Mr. Weld had died.

For the past quarter of a century Mr.
Weld was connected with the Keystone Coal Company as superintendent. This is one of the oldest and largest coal mining companies in this region, and the same company
also operates mines in Indiana county.

Deceased, who was a member of St.
Phillip and James Catholic Church of this place, is survived by his widow and one son, Lewis J. Weld. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

The remains of W. A. McCune, the local news agent, who was accidentally shot at the Hotel Klare last Friday, and who later died in a Pittsburg hospital, will be interred at Swis-svale, the home of his parents, tomorrow afternoon. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Earl H. Mc-Cune and Jesse F. McCune, and one daughter, Mary. His aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McCune, of Swissvale, also survive. He was a member of the Christian Church and the local society of Eagles.

BRAKEMAN JUMPS IN DARK FROM CABOOSE.

Special to The Courier.
SMITHFIELD, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Moore jumped from his caboose, between Cheat Haven and Gans, Friday night to tag a train that was following his and was badly shaken up. His train was stalled on the heavy grade on Grassy Run, the caboose being on a bridge when it was stalled and instead of hitting the ground a few feet below the top of the caboose Moore leaped in the run 25 feet below.

The engineer and fireman of the helper that was coupled onto the caboose saw him and ran to him expecting to find him dead or badly mounted, but with the exception of some bad bruises about his limbs, he will lay him off for a few days, he is not thought to be dangerously injured.

Hard Rain Fell
Yesterday; No
Fear of Drouth

The hardest rain since the drouth
set in several weeks ago came yesterday afternoon when the downpour, beginning at 5 o'clock continued for more than an hour. It was a drenching rain which came down in a solid sheet.

The precipitation during the past week has been sufficient to put an end to the protracted dry spell and the water supply has been replenished to such a degree that there is no danger of a shortage in the supply. The showers caused the springs and mountain streams to be revived.

The river is higher than it has been for several months, 2.15 being the record of the gauge this morning.

Phalin Says

John McDermott of Danbar was the only offender to face Burgess Evans in police court this morning. Mc-

ing by Special Officer Thomas C.
Phalin. He is alleged to have held up one James Woodward of Uniontown,

who impersonated himself as an officer. McDermott was held pending a further investigation.

Four common drunks greeted Burgess Evans yesterday when he resumed his duties in police court after a two weeks' vacation.

M. Bendot Dies
From Pneumonia;
an Auto VictimMathias Bendot, who was run down
by Johnson Hoover's automobile Tuesday evening, August 9, on Brimstone Corner, died shortly after 5 o'clock at the Cottage State hospital of pneumonia, which developed a few weeks ago. Mr. Hoover was driving the machine when the accident occurred.

Bendot, stopped at the Colonial National Bank to let a buggy pass, and without looking in the direction of the oncoming automobile stopped directly in front of it. Although going at a slow speed Mr. Hoover was unable to stop the machine. Bendot's most serious injury was a compound fracture of the ankle.

Bendot was a German and came to Connellsville on the Monday preceding the accident to work for the Connellsville Iron Works in the West Side. He was born in Germany and was a son of Nicholas and Susan Ben-dot, both deceased.

Bendot was 39 years old. The body was removed to Funeral Director J. L.
Studer's undertaking establishment on West Main street and prepared for burial. Mrs. Bendot, who is here from

ENROLLMENT IN SCHOOLS 2,000.The Term Opened Today
With Good Attendance
in All the Grades.

Until New Addition is Turned Over to the School Board Two Classes Will Go in Morning and Two in the Afternoon—Meeting Tonight.

The enrollment of the Connellsville schools this year will be larger than ever before. A healthy growth is shown. Up to noon today Superintendent W. S. Daffenburg had secured only a partial report, but the figures are sufficient to show that the schools are larger than ever.

Of the reports received this morning 1,741 children reported this morning to take up their duties. Figures for the Freshman and Junior classes in the High School are lacking. The total will probably exceed the 2,000 mark. It is expected that fully 200 more High School students will report this afternoon.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate more than 2,500 pupils.
The enrollment today does not indicate the maximum which will be reached as new pupils will enter from time to time until the Christmas holidays.

The High School is holding half day sessions until the new addition is completed. The Sophomores and Seniors begin the morning from 8
until 12 and the Freshmen and Juniors
in the afternoon from 1 until 5.
This cuts one period from each class for the present. It will be possible to make up the lost time after the entire building is occupied.

The enrollment for the schools this morning was as follows: High School
two classes yet to report 150; Senior Ward, 281; Third Ward, 244;
Fourth Ward, 367; South Side, 232;
West Side, 224.

The School Board will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening.

High Cost of Living Fatal to Lunch Rooms

The high cost of living has put another restaurant out of business. The West Penn quit business Saturday night. J. M. Sayres, the proprietor, found the income was not sufficiently ahead of the outgo to warrant sticking in the business. This is two restaurants which have closed their doors within the past week. The Busy Bee ceased to buzz last week when Constable James J. Mitchell closed it up to collect overdue accounts.

Restaurant men say the cost of living is so high that they have a hard time making any money at the providing prices for "short orders" and regular dinners.

The West Penn restaurant was started several years ago by W. C.
and Carl Bishop. Later it operated under the firm name of Bishop & Jennings. Jennings withdrew and later Sayres took over W. C. Bishop's interest.

Causes Halt of
Work on Bridge

Work has been stopped on the Western Maryland bridge crossing the Youghiogheny river above the falls at Ohioyle. The work was held up following orders from the company's headquarters at Baltimore.

It is intended to change the angle of the piers and until the plans are altered no further work will be done.

Division Engineer J. I. Palmer is in Baltimore conferring with Chief Engineer H. H. Pratt regarding this matter. A report that the government engineers had stopped the work at Ohioyle is denied.

FELL 20 FEET.
Chas. Buffington, Carpenter, Patient
at Cottage Hospital.

Charles Buffington of Danbar is at the Cottage State hospital for treatment of injuries sustained on Saturday afternoon. Buffington is a carpenter by trade and while at work on Saturday the ladder on which he was standing broke and he fell a distance of 20 feet.

At first it was thought that several of his ribs were fractured but on examination by the attending physician it was learned that such was not the case. His condition is not serious.
Buffington is 45 years old.

THE PRESIDENT

AN ARDENT CONSERVATIONIST.
The doctrine of Conservation, originated by President Roosevelt, will be developed by President Taft. It seems destined to become a fixed national policy, and none too soon, in spite of the open opposition of State Rights and the covert slanders of an unfaithful member of President Taft's official family.

President Taft's endorsement of Conservation is unqualified and emphatic. He starts out by declaring that he rejoices in this heritage from his predecessor, and gives us to understand that he proposes to perpetuate and promote the possession by every means at his command.

His address gives evidence of a careful study of the subject, and he parts some interesting facts concerning the extent and value of government lands. The Federal Government owns one-fourth of all the timber lands of the country. It would seem that this is a good basis for timber conservation, and so it would be if the lands were sufficiently scattered throughout the country; but they are not, and the full measure of timber conservation, which involves water supplies, must be had through the active and earnest cooperation of the State authorities and the private owners. Only 2% of the private timber lands are treated according to the rules of modern forestry, and are subject to destructive waste and neglect.

President Taft states that it will be the policy of his administration to retain government control of all oil, gas and coal lands, and to open them up only under leaseholds of from 25 to 50 years, the leases to contain a clause forbidding their transfer without the consent of the government authorities, this for the purpose of preventing combinations and monopolies. He would restrict the leaseholds of coal to 25 years. Upwards of one hundred millions of acres of land have been withdrawn by the government pending examinations for coal. Coal has been found under some ten millions of acres of this land, and the value of the coal is estimated at $471,847,671. The coal supply of the United States is estimated to be worth $3,000,000,000,000, one-third of which is owned by the government. Alaska alone contains 1,500 square miles of coal territory, and its development under the plan proposed is favored by the President for the purpose of giving the Pacific Coast cheaper fuel.

President Taft's Conservation policy includes control of water power, and to the end that there shall be no monopoly therein and no extortionate charges.

So far from antagonizing the doctrine of State Rights in its relation to Conservation, the President accords it ample recognition, and he appeals to the State authorities for assistance in the good work. Without such assistance a full measure of national benefit from the Conservation policy will never be realized.

THE FOREIGNER

IS CATCHING ON.
The Connellsville coke region foreigner is becoming fond of modern American litigation. He is plaintiff and defendant in divers civil actions, is fond of suits for assault and battery, of suing for slander, but it has remained for one foreigner to represent of European citizenship to initiate American methods by bringing suit for large damages for the alienation of his wife's affection.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant hypnotized his wife and through his malign influences stole her heart away from him, to his great grief of mind, and perhaps loss of service, estimated in cold cash at a sum approximating $20,000.

This is not the first instance where in the hypnotic eye played havoc with the peace of families, but it is perhaps the first case among foreign residents which has found its way into court.

PENNSYLVANIA'S

CHIEF MINE INSPECTOR.
A Monongahela miner protests against the anthracite region having a monopoly of the office of Chief Mine Inspector. He writes The Courier as follows:

The term of James T. Roderick, Chief Mine Inspector, expires with that of Governor Stuart. It is announced that Chief Roderick will not be a candidate for reappointment. If so, I think the office should go to the bituminous regions west of the mountains, which are just as competent as the present incumbent to administer the office of Chief Roderick. I think the office should go to a Western Pennsylvania man.

The anthracite region is a comparatively small portion of the Pennsylvania coal fields and its mining methods are materially different from those of the bituminous fields. Chief Roderick, whose mining education was acquired in the anthracite region, has been accused of being unfamiliar with the conditions and requirements of the bituminous fields, and not without reason. His proposed revision of the mining laws, embodied in a bill before the last Legislature, was bitterly opposed by both the operators and the miners of the bituminous regions.

Once Again the Theatrical Season Makes Its Appearance.

The Courier has no candidate for Chief Mine Inspector in case there is a vacancy, but it only votes the sentiments of the bituminous miners and operators, who are overwhelmingly greater numerically and financially than the combined labor and capitalization of the anthracite region; and if the bituminous interests present a properly qualified candidate, he should be given preference.

THE MARTYRDOM OF

DEFFENBAUGH.
Superintendent Deffenbaugh invites parents of school children to bring their grievances to him for adjustment, and not debate them with the neighbors over the back fence, or rashly attempt to lick the teachers.

The offer of the superintendent is fair and ought to be accepted in good faith by all parents whose children bring home from the school room dire tales of woe. It is unusual for public school instructors to appoint themselves trouble makers, or to volunteer for service as general arbitrators, and when they do offer themselves on the altar of duty their immolation should be accepted in the same spirit of noble self-sacrifice.

Superintendent Deffenbaugh is probably courting martyrdom, but the crown will be his.

The Westernland mining strike has made good business for the Courier.

The Dunkard Love Feast of Sedtick township seems to be growing more popular. It is estimated that a host will be provided instead of the customary sheep.

A Coal Trust has been discovered in Connellsville, and the Uniontown Herald has the impudence to assert that Connellsville is a burnt-out town. Why, we have just begun to grow!

The Young needs a scrubbing out and it seems due to get it.

The Indian creek valley is trying to locate industries with the bark on.

Williamsport is crushed on Government by Commission. Williamsport seems to have an unusual amount of public spirit. This is a necessary condition to the success of the commission form of government.

Labor day is being faithfully observed by the Connellsville banks.

Scotchdale has established a new but undesirable hitting average.

The Weather Man is betting to be a regular Old Sow.

In the midst of universal dullness, it is interesting to note that the burgling business is brisk.

The assassin was arrested Sunday afternoon by County Det. Two Minks after having kept a mob at bay until the officers arrived. At a coroner's inquest, Naomi Roper, aged 14, gave testimony that her brother had been shot in the chest and a half hour later died of a wound of the heart.

Much faith is placed in the Mt. Pleasant, Connellsville and Uniontown street railway in course of construction. One business man says he would rather see that road completed than the location in Connellsville of any industry employing 100 hands.

The September term of court opened Monday. John J. Ketter was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury. The most important case to come up was that of T. L. Coffman against The Tipton County Fuel Gas Company. He is suing for $50,000 alleged to have been sustained in an explosion while in the employment of the company. SCHOOLS BEGAN THIS MORNING.

Scottsdale and East Huntingdon Township Open for New Term.

MORE TYPHOID FEVER CASES

Lyman Hoke Dies Frank Collins For Felonious Assault and Litter Is Held For Court—Heavy Rains Come Late.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Sept. 5.—The schools of Scottsdale borough began their second year under the supervision of Principal Leland Tanager this morning and the new High School Building on Chestnut street was used for the first time. This caused a rearrangement of the pupils of the Pittsburgh and Chestnut street buildings and has resulted in a changing about for a good many pupils. The board of education met on Saturday and had the teachers present to go through the formality of signing their contracts for the term, and following this the directors held a meeting at which routine business for the month was cleared away. Miss Culp was elected to the position of substitute teacher. In East Huntingdon township the school term began this morning. The directors and teachers assembled at Alverton on Saturday for the contract signing and the first lesson in the writing business, which the teachers will bring out this term.

More Typhoid Fever.
More typhoid fever cases have broken out in town. Frank Newman, a son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Newman of Market street, having the disease. The Newman are next door neighbors to Dr. J. W. Burtner's where four out of the five members of the family have the fever. The father was not removed to the hospital as had at first been arranged for on Saturday. There has been an attempt to secure another nurse, so that a day and night nurse could alternate in the care of the family. Daniel Stauter, of near East Scottsdale just outside the borough was taken to his home on Saturday. Mrs. Stauter and her daughter have had the disease for several days.

Had Good Rain.
The rains of the last few days have done some good to the crops and have given them a little better lease of life. The rains of Sunday afternoon were the heaviest in many months and filled the streets at the curb with large streams. The ground is now deeply enough soaked in most places that further plowing may be done. The rains that fell before this did not go down more than about an inch in the ground, which in most places was taken hard, and difficult for a plow to get through. From now on the farmers can jump into the plowing game.

House Is Dark.
Manager E. J. Determore has closed the Gay opera house for this evening and Tuesday and Wednesday, while the house is to be thoroughly overhauled, workmen having been engaged for day and night to lighten up the house. It will reopen on Thursday night with the favorites, Vogel's Minstrels, for which there has begun a large advance sale at T. H. Rutherford's, the news dealer.

Communism Observed.
The last communion of the conference year, of which five weeks remain, was observed at the First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday, with Rev. R. H. Stannell, D. D., the pastor, assisted by Dr. A. W. Strickler serving the elements.

Labor Day Celebration.
Labor Day is no further set apart here than by the dances which are closed and the postoffice which closed at 11 o'clock and will remain closed until 5 o'clock this evening.

Board Meeting Tonight.
The board of trustees of the First Methodist Episcopal Church meet this evening in the pastor's study at 7:15. The official board meets in the same place tomorrow evening at the same hour.

Swung a Bat Fiercely.
Lyman Hoke of Brownstown appeared before Justice of the Peace C. H. Urey and swore out a warrant charging Frank Collins, known locally as "Dum" with felonious assault. The sale of the charge was the altercation the two are said to have got into a few weeks ago when Collins smashed Hoke with a baseball bat, it landing on Hoke's elbow, which was shattered and injured so that Hoke will likely be a cripple for life. Each claims the other was the aggressor. Collins was arrested by Chief of Police Frank McCudden and was held for court by Justice Urey.

Harry DePriest Dead.
Harry J. DePriest, aged about 26, single, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James DePriest of Alverton, died at noon Saturday, a victim of typhoid fever. The young man was a civil engineer for the Keystone Coal & Coke Company of Greensburg. D. R. DePriest, superintendent of the Lincoln Coal & Coke Company is a brother; William DePriest, another brother is in Fayette City.

Visiting From Ohio.
Mrs. J. Harry Laker of Chestnut street has returned from her visit to Cleveland, Lorain Sandusky and other cities in Ohio for the last four weeks. She was accompanied home by her niece Mrs. William Layton of Sau-duky who will be here for some weeks.

Went to the Falls.
W. Dick Frotts and Albert Kolly, two well known mill men, are taking their vacation at Niagara Falls and Buffalo having left for those points on Saturday.

Visiting in Kansas.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burkett of near town have gone to Wichita, Kansas, to visit with relatives for a few weeks.

Started Two More Townships.
President P. O. Peterson of the Peterson Business College who is employed by several school boards to give the teachers special instruction in writing met with the teachers of Unity township at Youngstown and those of East Huntingdon township at Alverton and gave them their first lessons on Saturday. These lessons will be given each month and the teachers will carry out the principles laid down for them. The innovation promises much better results than the copy book method.

FAMILY QUARREL

Ends in a Fatal Shooting in New York on Sunday.

New York, Sept. 5.—An old Italian woman and a special deputy sheriff are dead, and an innocent bystander is seriously wounded and four more persons are more or less injured as the result of a family row in a grocery shop in Christie street, which was followed by the pursuit of a desperate man with a Colt automatic revolver through Christie and Duane streets to the Bowery by a blood-thirsty crowd in which the pursued repeatedly covered his retreat by the murderous fire from his modern death machine.

Giuseppe Carassua, supposed to be the instigator of the trouble, was the man the crowd was after. He reached the Bowery and turned south. A special policeman leaped at him and, swinging his night stick over his head, struck the runaway to the pavement. The policeman started back and gasped audibly when he saw the success of his blow and then, fearing evidently that he had killed his victim, he fled.

Vincenzo lay stretched out on the pavement for a brief second and then, half recovering himself, he raised his body up on one arm. The crowd came around the corner giving tongue to their rage like so many hot-blooded bloodhounds. They saw Vincenzo trying to stagger to his feet and in an instant he was there.

IGNORE INSURGENTS.

Republican Regulars Defend the New Payne Tariff Law.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Insurgent Republicans are not recognized in the Republican textbook just issued by the Republican congressional committee. There are copious extracts from the speeches of President Taft, Vice President Sherman and other leaders, but there is a notable absence of speeches made by Dilliver, Cummins, La Follette and Brister. There is a strong defense of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The textbook says on this point:

"The Republican leaders will insist that a law which has changed a deficit of $58,000,000 into a surplus of $15,000,000; that has changed stagnation of business to unprecedented activity; that has given full employment to our wage earners at the highest wages ever known; is a law to be inequally defended and a law that should remain unchanged until it is shown without doubt that a further revision would be of benefit to our labor and industries."

CRUSHED UNDER TRAIN.

Aged Mrs. Plant Is Terribly Mutilated on Railroad.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Betsy Plant, aged sixty-five, wife of Albert H. Plant of Branford, cousin of Commodore Morton F. Plant, was found dead near the tracks of the New Haven road near this city. She had been run down by a train apparently some time during the night and her body was mutilated beyond recognition. It is believed that she wandered away from home some time during the night while suffering from temporary aberration of the mind.

A son of Mrs. Plant, Albert H. Plant, owns and occupies the family estate of several hundred acres of the late Henry Plant, the multi-millionaire steamship magnate, presented to him by the present Commodore Plant, to be held by those bearing the family name.

LOVING HUSBY KILLS WIFE

Places Muzzle of Revolver to Her Side and Pulls Trigger.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 5.—"I loved her so that I could not give her up and I am glad it is all over," said W. O. Vaughan, a bricklayer of Louisville, in jail here, referring to the murder of his wife, Gertrude May, aged twenty-two.

Vaughan had followed his wife to this city and found her with another man. He crept up to a window and shot at his wife's companion, Nick Ryan, a horseman, the bullet penetrating the calf of the leg. The man and woman ran and Vaughan followed his wife, who tried to escape from the house. He seized her about the waist as she was attempting to open a gate, and holding her with his left hand placed the muzzle of his revolver to her left side and fired, killing her instantly.

SOCIETY PLANS ADAMLESS EDEN.

Entire New York Block to be a Club for Women.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR 1,000

Ballroom, Amateur Theatre, Roof Tennis Courts, Dozen "Beau Parloirs" and Free Typewriters Among Features of $300,000 Home for Maids.

A whole city block of women, with not a man in sight, will become an interesting reality in the "improved mode of living" in New York city early next year. Prominent New York men and women who are keenly interested in the housing problem say the new arrangement will offer accommodations for many hundreds of New York's business and professional women and students who represent the bachelor maid population of the city. The members of the woman colony, which it is decided will be the only one of its kind in the world, will be housed in two separate buildings. The first building, which it is expected will be ready for occupancy next February, will be known as the Junior League Residential club. The second building, for which plans are now being made, will be known as the Model Kitchenette Apartments for Women.

Will House 1,000 Women.
The buildings when completed will accommodate nearly 1,000 women. There will only men to be allowed on the premises will be those received socially by the young women guests. Men will be encouraged to make social calls, and provision has been made for this social feature of the club by providing a few dozen of what will be known as "beau parlors."

In the new order of things, where women will live under the same untrammelled liberty as the men and women of wealthy clubs, there will be no interfering landlords, no elevator maid, no woman superintendent or lady night watchman tiptoeing about the halls turning out the gas as a gentle hint to the young man that he had better be moving.

Miss Dorothy Whitney, daughter of the late William C. Whitney, and other well known society women who have given much time and money to philanthropy, including Mrs. Charles Russell, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman; Miss Harriet Alexander, Mrs. Lorraine Roosevelt, Mrs. Courtland D. Barnes and Mrs. Frederick R. Swift, with the assistance of William D. Sloan, raised about $200,000 to erect and furnish the building.

The managers of the new enterprise say the club will not be in any way a charity, although they hope to give girls a pleasant room and good board for $6 a week and perhaps a little less, with the additional educational, social and recreation features, for which there will be no charge.

Liberty Is Principle.
"Liberty will be the keynote of life at the new Residential club," said one of the promoters. "Young women who have the courage to come to New York to try to better their circumstances, whether to earn their own living or to study, should be given every encouragement. The social side of a girl's life has been as carefully provided for in the club as the economic one. I think the recreation one a most important feature. We will have a ballroom to accommodate as many as 600 persons. We will have tennis courts on the roof garden, and we will have a clubroom where amateur plays may be given, and we hope to interest the girls in these."

The utility features will consist of an elevator where girls may type-write any work they have to do. There will be a sewing room where the girls may make their own gowns and hats if they wish, and there will be a laundry room for their special use.

"I think one nice feature which the girls will like very much is the little pantry at the end of each hall. These will be provided with dumb waiters. If a girl wishes to make a cup of tea or a cup of chocolate all she will need to do will be to drop a coin in the slot for the gas used and she can have a cup of something warm for a small cost."

QUAKER CITY STILL THIRD

Population of Philadelphia Is 1,549,008, 10.7 Per Cent Increase.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The census bureau announced that the present population of Philadelphia is 1,549,008. This shows an increase of 235,311, or 15.7 per cent.

Philadelphia already is third in population among American cities and the latest figures do not change its position. The Quaker City ratio of increase is only slightly greater than that of Pittsburgh, its sister city in Pennsylvania, which, with a population of 535,006, increased 18.1 per cent in ten years.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE.

Meeting Held at Pittsburgh and Officers Are Elected.

Representatives from five of the six teams in the Central basketball league were present yesterday afternoon when the first meeting of the organization was held at the Colonial Annex Hotel, Pittsburgh. Homestead failed to have a representative on hand, but the business was transacted nevertheless.

Joseph M. Leishend was re-elected president, secretary and treasurer by an unanimous vote of the members present. A subcommittee was appointed, which will immediately start work on the 1910-11 schedule. It was decided to open the season November 7. The schedule committee is composed of J. J. Fromm, of the Southside team; David Foster, of McKeesport; and one of the members of the abandoned Homestead aggregation. Several applications were received from clubs in Western Pennsylvania, but they were all turned down, as it was thought advisable to go through the season with the same number as last year.

The league is composed of the following teams: Southside, Uniontown, McKeesport, Homestead, Greensburg and Johnstown.

Hickory Square Holds Festival Saturday Evening

Special to The Courier.

BROAD FORD, Sept. 5.—A festival for the benefit of the Hickory Square Church will be held Saturday next for the benefit of the general church fund. Ice cream, cake and all the social delights will be served.

This church has held several affairs of this sort and have always been successful in their vocation. The celebration along the Morgan valley struck this little church a serious blow. Many of the members have moved to other parts being unable to secure employment and this left only a few faithful workers to keep the church in favorable financial straits, however, others are once more beginning to run more smoothly.
